Stewardship Reflections
 July 8th, 2018

The First Reading from the prophet Ezekiel tells of how Ezekiel was called by God. The Lord speaks to him and says, "Hard of face and obstinate of heart are they to whom I am sending you." God knew He was not giving Ezekiel an easy task, but that is part of what being called by the Lord sometimes involves.

Being called is something to which we often make reference, as each of us is called in Baptism. St. Paul once wrote that we are "called to belong to Jesus Christ." The United States Bishops issued a document a few years ago titled Disciples Called to Witness. That is what we are all to do as baptized Catholics.

In that treatise the Bishops say, "To create a culture of witness, we must live explicit lives of discipleship. Being a disciple is a challenge. Fortunately, one does not become a disciple of Christ on his or her own initiative. The work of the Holy Spirit within the Christian community forms the person as a disciple of Christ."

God does not forsake us when we are called, just as He did not abandon Ezekiel. He is with us through the Holy Spirit to strengthen us and assist us. We must allow the Lord to help us. At the same time, we must strive to be disciples of the Lord. We are called to spread the light of the Gospel in everything we do.

Do You Want to Spend an Eternity in Heaven? Prove It! Adore Him!

I think most people, at least those who believe in an afterlife and a Heaven and Hell, would answer yes to the question, "Do you want to spend an eternity in Heaven?" But do we really mean it? Does our life here on earth give witness to that claim? First, think about eternity, that is a really long time. In fact, eternity is forever! A person once said that if you were given the task to move the entire Rocky Mountain chain across the United States to the East Coast, but you were only allowed to move one piece of gravel of sand/rock each year, by the time you completed the task you wouldn't even come close to eternity. Because again eternity is forever! Now, what is Heaven? In the most basic terms, it is a life of complete peace, joy, love, etc., absent of suffering, with Jesus for eternity (remember eternity = forever). But is that really what we want after this life? Do our lives and actions now, prove it? Let me get to the point. There are 168 hours in the week, but how many of those hours do we spend in the presence of Jesus. If we go to Mass each week then there is one hour, but is that really enough? I mean if we can only afford to give Him an hour of our time now, then why should it be believed that we want to spend an eternity with Him? One of the ways that we can seek to spend more time with Him and truly prepare ourselves for and give a greater witness of our desire to spend eternity with Him is through Eucharistic Adoration. There are many hours still vacant that you as an individual, as a family, or even as a group can volunteer to fill in the Adoration Chapel. Not only will spending this extra time each week in the literal Presence of Jesus, prepare us for Heaven, but it will also bring great blessings into this life. So ask yourself, how am I using my 168 hours each week? What does it say about my desire for eternity?
